

All Is Forgiven

Default

As if the wait was not enough
And one can only take so much You broke into pieces
Seems hopeless now but at least you know
The tables can turn around
And time will repair you And the rain comes and goes
And all is forgiven
Can we learn to let go?
So all is forgiven You're on your knees reaching out
Reaching for someone
To lift you up right off the ground
Is anyone out there? You can't breathe, you're choking
You'll make it through just keep holding on
I know that it won't be long
'Till somebody saves you And the rain comes and goes
And all is forgiven
Can we learn to let go?
So all is forgiven When the clouds burn away
All is forgiven
When the night turns to day
So all is forgiven Don't stop the rain from pouring down
Let it wash the pain
Where it can't be found And the rain comes and goes
And all is forgiven
Can we learn to let go?
So all is forgiven When the clouds burn away
All is forgiven
When the night turns to day
So all is forgiven Oh, oh, all is forgiven
Oh, oh, all is forgiven
