

Born Again

Thousand Foot Krutch

I tried, but I just can't get out of this
It's got me tied like the waves come in
When this thing hits me, I start it again
Cause I could drown just by holdin' it in I got it
I'm done hittin' the bottom
I can taste it I'm so close
Tired of bein' haunted
I'm an addict of habit
Don't hide me in the attic
I'm an angel if I can stay plugged in again I've been diggin' in high and low
To find the world I know
But I can't seem to find a thing
Feel stronger now than I've ever been
So won't you let me in
I feel like I've been born again Like a time bomb ticking at the scene of a crime
It's going down if I let it again
Blow the roof sky high like the fourth of July
I'm all or nothing if I'm lettin' it in I want it
I got it
I'm done hittin' the bottom
I can taste it I'm so close
Tired of bein' haunted
I'm an addict of habit
Don't hide me in the attic
I'm an angel if I can stay plugged in again I've been diggin' in high and low
To find the world I know
But I can't seem to find a thing
Feel stronger now than I've ever been
So won't you let me in
I feel like I've been born again I'm not an easy target
I'm not an angel in disguise
I'm just a man that by grace
Was given a second chance
I feel like I've been born again I know what you're thinking but I just can't think it
It came alive now I'm overtaken
Thought I had it all 'till my world was shaken
I can't erase it | there's no mistaking I've been diggin' in high and low
To find the world I know
But I can't seem to find a thing

Feel stronger now than I've ever been
So won't you let me in
I feel like I've been born again I'm not an easy target
I'm not an angel in disguise
I'm just a man that by grace
Was given a second chance
I feel like I've been born again
