In This Light and on This Evening

Editors

I swear to God I heard the earth inhale Moments before It spat its rain down on meI swear to God In this light and on this evening London's become The most beautiful thing I've seenI swear to God I heard the earth inhale Moments before It spat its rain down on meI swear to God In this light and on this evening London's become The most beautiful thing I've seenI swear to God I heard the earth inhale Moments before It spat its rain down on meI swear to God In this light and on this evening London's become The most beautiful thing I've seen
