

London's Rose

Douglas Dare

What's above these walls Empty land and empty Calls Echos numb through these halls
The lying back can feel it all Well its quite down here x3
Down here Entire world under the street Soiled air you can not breathe lines and lines of shoe-less theives
One-hundred beds under one sheet
Well its hard down here x3
Down here
mmmmmh
mmmmmh
mmmmmh
White mosaic hairdos
With sign posts overgrown Destination unknown
Was London's rose with London's rose Were alive down here x3
down here
take us back up to the tall take us back up
take us back up
take us back up to the top
take us back up
take us back up to the top
take us back up
