

Candle Burnin', Wax Drippin'

Kate Martin

Honey would you like to know
Why I'm breaking my back just to be with you tonight
Gonna t-t-t-take it slow
It was a piece of cake to make you mine
But it was hard to make you stay
So crazy how that dream came true
Now you need me for than I need you
In ten minutes you'll turn twenty-two

But it's apparent you're unhappy
It's apparent you're unhappy
If you let me take your hand
I can show you how to feel
Cause I can tell when you're unhappy
It's apparent to me

On the plane and into the sky
You've been getting way too high
Let's pretend like we see eye to eye
Now you're pushing me away
Your mind's a mess, hey it's OK
Cause half the time I feel the same
And I can tell when you're unhappy

Father, what have I become
A candle burnin', wax drippin' son
Hiding cause I don't know how to run
Father, what have I become
Father, what have I become
A candle burnin', wax drippin' son
Hiding cause I don't know how to run
Father, what have I become
Tell me what have I become, to you
Father, what have I become, to you

Always on another face
Always in another place
Only in it for the chase

---

Lyrics submitted by Andrew Brown.

Lyrics provided by
<https://damnyrics.com/>