Remember Me

Rickie Lee Jones

With my face against the glass
I call your name as you walk past
You look, but you see yourself
Ill give you all the things Ive got
I know its late, I know its hot,
But dont you hang up,
And dont you tell lies.
Dont you know youre blowing away?
Dont you go before you Remember Me
In a border town near Mexico
I took your ring long ago
Now the storm clouds have filled your sweet eyes
And theres a storm that wont abide
Its torn everything inside
Of the sweet heart that once was my home.
Dont you know youre blowing away?
Dont you go before you Remember Me
Dont you know youre blowing away?
Dont you go before you Remember Me
Darling, this storm will pass away
I pray for you every day.
