

Blood

City and Colour

I'd like to take my time
There's a good reason I must find
I want to put a few miles down
I'd like to feel my two feet on the ground
Another year's hard work done
I've paid for it with all of my blood
I've given you more than I'm worth
I want to dig my fingers into the earth
Because I know there's beauty buried beneath
The surface of what we see
All hopes left unfound
They lie between the wish and the well
The sound is just rising up
Mother birds feeding their young
The light of a brand new day
I think we've finally found a home in this place
And now I know there's beauty buried beneath
The surface of what we see
They lie between the wish and the well
I know there's beauty buried beneath (beauty buried beneath)
There's beauty buried beneath (buried beneath)
I know there's beauty buried beneath (beauty buried beneath)
I know there's beauty buried beneath (beauty buried beneath)
Now I know there's beauty buried beneath
The surface of what we see
They lie between the wish and the well
