

Borrowed Time

The Bruisers

Hanging on the corner, living on borrowed time
Taking my chances, stepping out over the line
Always trying to tell me
You're coming to the end of the line
One day you'll push your luck too far
You're living on borrowed time
Chorus
Living on borrowed time
Every day fighting for what's mine
Living life one foot over the line
Living on borrowed time
Don't talk about the future, i might never see the day
I don't wanna be trapped here, No i don't wanna stay
It's this life that i want more of, That's what i got to say
It's up to you, you can come along or get the hell out of the way
Got reasons i should stay here and reasons i should go
If you try to push me there's one thing you should know
There's a man standing right in front of you with a fire in his eyes
And if you try to push him, well i wouldn't even try
