White

G*Park

White, white, white White, white, white Are there oceans full of things you never say? Are there skylines of the cities you don?t see? Is there music muted playing underneath? Is mathematics keeping you from thinking free? Do you see lights? Turn your shadows white White, white, white White, white, white Don?t let rain clouds Cry at all of your parades Let the other side of darkness kiss your face Into the sea, into the sea Do you see lights? Turn your shadows white Do you feel bright? Turn your shadows white All the things I want to say All the shadows in the way Do you see lights? Turn your shadows white Do you feel bright? Turn your shadows white White, white, white White, white, white
