Homeland

stellastarr*

At the edge of darkness
There was nothing left
And nobody could care about me
In a yard filled with toys
I would pass the time
With a friend of mine (imaginary)And I'll be gone today
Won't you come I'll be gone today
Won't you come I'm always chasing you
Won't you come I'll be always chasing you
Won't you run I'll be gone today
Won't you come I'll be gone awayCome on down to my house
There's a swimming pool
And it's winning over everybody
In a town I call home
I was looking at you
But you never seem to look at meAnd I'll be gone today
Won't you come I'll be gone today
Won't you come I'm always chasing you
Won't you come I'll be always chasing you
Won't you run I'll be gone today
Won't you come I'll be gone away
