Can I See You Tonight

Tanya Tucker

I don't know where to start now that we're fallen apart
How can we talk heart to heart you're so far away what can I say
I've tried to understand but things got so out of hand
Held out as long as I can now I'm on the telephone saying"Can I see you tonight?
Just think of the time that we're wasting
Everything will be right
It could be love if we make it"Now that we're on the line I'll tell you what's on my mind
The love that we're trying to hide well, it's suffering from too much pride
When will we see the end to this game where nobody wins?
'Cause as long as nobody gives in it will go on and on and onCan I see you tonight?
Just think of the time that we're wasting
Everything will be right
It could be love if we make itInstead of breaking up
Instead of breaking upCan I see you tonight?
Just think of the time that we're wasting
Everything will be right
It could be love if we make itCan I see you tonight?
Just think of the time that we're wasting
Baby, everything will be right
It could be love if we make it
