

Flick of the Finger

Beady Eye

Say what you believe...Woke up this morning I was laid out flat on the dark side
With the moon and the room on the wrong sideI took a needle, sewn myself right back at the seams
I saw my universal gleamI see the wonder of life and look for the wall

Just taking a walk in the sunIn time...

In just a second like the ghost of a bad idea

I feel myself getting the fearC'mon...

Have we decided if we like being part of the plan

The sands are shifting and there's nowhere to landIt's on...

It doesn't matter if all the best tickets are sold and all the old stories are toldI know...

You're gonna tell me that you hear every word I say

But the future gets written today

Yeah the future gets written today[Spoken]

Don't be deceived when our revolution has been finally stamped out and they pat you paternally on the shoulder and say that there's no inequality worth speaking of and no more reason for fighting, because if you believe them, they will be completely in charge in their marble homes and granite banks from which they rob the people of the world under the pretense of bringing them culture...

Watch out, for as soon as it pleases them, they'll send you out to protect their gold in wars, who's weapons rapidly developed by servile scientists will become more and more deadly, until they can, with the flick of the finger, tear a million of you into pieces
