High

Zididada

Release date: 1. November 2000
Album: Have a zididada daySun is shining people walking in the streets Feel like flying all I need could you tell me cause I don't know whats going on would you help me if I should try to make it right(chorus)I am high I am so in love with life I don't know why that people wanna fight don't know whywould you help me if I was on the other side would you hear me if I should cry come together all you really need is love to make it better we could try to kiss the sky(chorus)I know you're not my enemy I know that you could never be and I know that that you will stand by me till the end of time you could get higher to and you should be happy too and so in love with life
