Surprise, Surprise

Agent 51

Advisory - the following lyrics contain explicit language:

No, I don't wanna be
Part of just another conspiracy
There's people in high places
Who say it's all a lie
And the rest of us have gotta know
Before we up and die, and say goodbye
They deny everything
They talk a lot but still don't say a fuckin' thing
The lies are bought and sold
On the newsstands every day
And when we get the answers, the headlines
On the papers will say:
Surprise, surprise, we saw through the lies
What was that I saw flyin' through the desert sky?
Surprise, surprise, they're from outer space
It's not a movie or a story, it's another race
You think you know everything
Can't open your mind to the possibility
That somewhere far away in our unknown galaxy
There exist another form of life
Kept in the dark for centuries
