Remind Me I'm Alive

Ivoryline

Did you think you were made
For all the things that felt like a waste
Or has everything led you to be
What you have never foreseen?Everything I see reminds me of just How beautiful you can be
I'm waiting for a feeling
That would make love open my eyes
Remind me I'm aliveThis Seattle life, it has changed me from the inside
Changed me from the inside
It has magnified all my cries
For something more than fineEverything I see reminds me of just
How beautiful you can be
I'm waiting for a feeling
That would make love open my eyes
Remind me I'm alive, reminds me I'm alive
Reminds me I'm alive, reminds me I'm aliveNow we see that everything we have
And everything we lack is exactly what we need
Every single day, everything we've made
Has put us in this place, in just this wayEverything I see reminds me of just
How beautiful you can be
I'm waiting for a feeling
That would make love open my eyes
Remind me I'm alive, reminds me I'm alive
Reminds me I'm alive
