

Every Part of Me

Craig Aven

Every Part of Me Craig Aven

What if they saw through the smile?
What if they looked underneath?
What if they scratched through the surface and caught a glimpse of me?
 â€™Cause I am just terribly broken,
 I am just desperately weak,
but still I am dying to show them, me.

 â€™Cause youâ€™re not truly loved until youâ€™re fully known
And the light cannot shine bright on what is not exposed
 I realise they may not like everything they see
But I canâ€™t hide, â€™cause Jesus died for nothing less than every part of me.

How else would you know how He saved me?
How else could you see what Heâ€™s done?
How else would you know where Iâ€™ve been and just how far Iâ€™ve come?
So Iâ€™m not ashamed of my story, â€™cause it tells the power of God
 It tells how Iâ€™m bought with a price
 It tells how Iâ€™m washed by His blood

 Youâ€™re not truly loved until youâ€™re fully known
And the light cannot shine bright on what is not exposed
 And I realise they may not like everything they see
But I canâ€™t hide, â€™cause Jesus died for nothing less than every part of me.

So Iâ€™ll caste my pearls here before you Iâ€™ll reveal every scar
if it will give you the courage to show me who you are
 See you do not have to keep hiding
 I understand youâ€™re afraid
But take it from me you will make it
 This is a risk you must take

 Youâ€™re not truly loved until youâ€™re fully known
The light cannot shine bright on what is not exposed
 And I realise they may not like everything they see
But we canâ€™t hide â€™cause Jesus died for nothing less
No I canâ€™t hide â€™cause Jesus died for nothing less than every part of me.
