Somebody's Love

Passenger

Oh when the winds they blow,
You're gonna need somebody to know you,
You're gonna need somebody's love to fall into.Oh when the leaves they fall,
You're gonna need somebody to call you,
You're gonna need somebody's arms to crawl into,
to crawl into.Go and get yourself lost,
Like you always do.
Sail into the blue,
With nobody next to you.Oh but when you wanna get yourself found
There may be no one around.
You sink without a sound,
You know it's true.Oh when the winds they blow,
You're gonna need somebody to know you,
You're gonna need somebody's love to fall into.Oh when the leaves they fall,
You're gonna need somebody to call you,
You're gonna need somebody's arms to crawl into.What you're saying is true,
You ain't no fool, you ain't no liar,
You're never gonna get yourself burnt
If you don't start no fires,But with no fire there is no light
With no light you'll never see
All the colors in the world,
And all the love that's inside me.When the winds they blow,
You're gonna need somebody to know you,
You're gonna need somebody's love to fall into.Oh when the leaves they fall,
You're gonna need somebody to call you,
You're gonna need somebody's arms to crawl into
oh to crawl into.And oh when the winds they blow, You're gonna need somebody to know,
You're gonna need somebody's love to fall into.And oh when the leaves they fall,
You're gonna need somebody to call,
You're gonna need somebody's arms to crawl into
to crawl intoï»¿.
