To the End

Florrie

Lying out in the dark Thinking about everything My heart can only give you a part Of the love that you lost right at the start Lying out in the dark Thinking about everything My heart can only give you a part Of the love that you lost right at the start I will only bring you happiness Boy youre always wanting more But if only youd let Just a little bit of happiness Into your eyes Then we can compromise Forgive and forget I will only bring you happiness Boy youre always wanting more But if only youd let Just a little bit of happiness Into your eyes Then we can compromise Forgive and forget Baby we will take this to the end Baby we will take this to the end Lying out in the dark Thinking about everything My heart Can only give you a part Of the love that you lost right at the start I will only bring you happiness Buy your hours more and more But if only youd let Just a little bit of happiness Into your eyes Then we can compromise Forgive and forget I will only bring you happiness Buy your hours more and more But if only youd let Just a little bit of happiness

Into your eyes Then we can compromise Forgive and forget Baby we will take this to the end Lets not get over excited, You want it bad then fight it, Who knows what the future holds, Better do what youre told, Every little piece of me, Ill give to you for free, Happiness dont mean a thing, Until you let it in. (Ill love)
