For Everything

Abbey Stone

Who would have thought that we'd make it this far,
We've been through a lot and we worked so hard to get here. But we got here.

So take my hand and don't look back,
Just smile at the crowd for all you had is there, yeah.

So how's your head, how we crossed the finish line,
We gave all we had and now our lives have started.

Thank God for every fall, for every time we thought we had no more
For every tear that ran down our face
For every moment we thought we were too late
Thank God for every sleepless second
Every time we gave up or gave in
Thank everyone for everything. For everything.

Who would have thought we'd be standing here, we've become one in five short years, it's crazy. So crazy.
And in the very last day you'll know your name but maybe sometime the memory will erase it.

But here we are now, side by side, it was yesterday I first saw your eyes,
I can't imagine you not in my life.

Thank God for every fall, for every time we thought we had no more
For every tear that ran down our face
For every moment we thought we were too late
Thank God for every sleepless second
Every time we gave up or gave in
Thank everyone for everything. For everything.

Here we are brothers in arms,
Every late night, every early dawn,
Every time we thought it was just too hard, we made it through.

Thank God for every fall, for every time we thought we had no more
For every tear that ran down our face
For every moment we thought we were too late
Thank God for every sleepless second
Every time we gave up or gave in

Thank everyone for everything. For everything.
