

My Heart Has Never Changed

Mark Knopfler

My car's in for a brake job
Be ready in a while
Something about the waitress
Made me think about your smile
I tip her a ten spot
And I try to read her name
I'm just an old long hauler
A grinder at the game Heaven knows the highways
Since we've been apart
But my heart don't feel like leaving
Or you won't leave my heart
Now and then I might take
A little something for pain
But there's nothing much for heartache
And my heart has never changed
My heart has never changed Now there's no more rough and tumble
Down Highway 199
Nothing lasts forever
I just miss it sometimes She comes to pour more coffee
But it's time to see more world
I pick up my check and keys
And go and pay the girl
My mind's in Hell's Half Acre
And the rooms along Exchange
And the scenes are always shifting
But my heart has never changed
My heart has never changed
