

All Because (Alternate Remix)

Tree63

I want to set the story straight
It's time to tell the truth
I never could have come so far
If it were not for You You covered up my sin
You covered up my silence
You covered up my shame
You made me new again It's all because of You
It's all because of You, You They tell me to abandon You
To make my dreams come true
So what am I supposed to do?
If I only dream of You You covered up my sin
You covered up my silence
You covered up my shame
You made me new again It's all because of You
It's all because of You It's all because of You, You
It's all because of You It's all because of You, my love
It's all because, all because of You Yeah, yeah, yeah, yeah
Yeah, yeah
All because of You
It's all because of You
All that You were through
It's all because of You All because of You
All because of You
All because of You
