

Here Comes the Moon

George Harrison

Everybody's talking up a storm
Act like they don't notice it
But here it is and here it comes
Here comes the moon, the moon
The moon, the moon, the moon Impulse always quickens when it's full
As it turns my head around me
Yes it does and here it comes
Here comes the moon, the moon
The moon, the moon, the moon God's gift I see that's moving up there into the night
Though dark the mirror in the sky reflects us our light
Looks like a little brother to the sun
Or mother to the stars at night
And here it is and here it comes
Here comes the moon, the moon
The moon, the moon, the moon Breath is always taken when it's new Enhance upon the clouds around it
Yes it is and here it comes
Here comes the moon, the moon, the moon
