Make It Through This World

Greg Trooper

Your simple dreams,
your careful steps
You`ve never missed
a thing I said
The thunder cracks
and you shake with fear
Who will hold you
if you`re not here
From the city`s roar to the river towns
There will always be someone to put you down
And that they will,
make no mistake
Throw all their shattered dreams
Right up in your faceI might find it hard to say
But you`re gonna make it through this world ok
You`re gonna make it through this worldIn my arms you took your rest Would lay your head
upon my chest
Your gentle hands,
your silky skin
Your liquid eyes
they`d just drink me in I tried to keep ahead of you I cleared a path
but obscured the view Now you`ve packed your bags and your fragile heart And it looks like I`m the one who just might fall apartI might find it hard to say But you`re gonna make it through this world ok
You`re gonna make it through this worldYour soul and wisdom defy your age
Are you sure you`re ready to turn the pageI might find it hard to say
But you`re gonna make it through this world ok

You`re gonna make it through this world
You`re gonna make it through this world
You`re gonna make it through this world ok

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/