Here Comes That Sinking Feeling

Eurythmics

Have you ever heard the sound of disappointment?
It tangles your head like a winter rose
Comes up eager and shining
And it likes to leave a scar before it goesHere comes that sinking feeling
Here comes that sinking feeling
Here comes that sinking feeling
Here comes that sinking feelingNobody hurts me like you do
You cut into me like a poison dart
Creep into my sleep at night
Break into my dreams and tear them apartHere comes that sinking feeling
Here comes that sinking feeling
Here comes that sinking feeling
Here comes that sinking feelingHave you ever felt the sound of disappointment?
It pounds in your head like hammer blows
Comes on gentle and smiling
And it likes to leave a scarHere it comes
Here it comes again
Here it comes
Here it comes again
Here it comes
Here it comes again
Here it comes
Here it comes againHere comes that sinking feeling
Here comes that sinking feeling
Here comes that sinking feeling
Here comes that sinking feelingHere comes that sinking feeling
Here comes that sinking feeling
