Become

D-Deck

So much more about you
That you never let them see
You turned away but not to me
And I know how they tried to take you
Held you up and meant
To break you down but you can't be
For so long I tried to reach you
I know I'm almost there
I'm close enough for you to see
And you've been hiding in the shadows
Have you forgotten how we used to dream
Well let me remind you the light doesn't blind you at all
It just helps you see, oh can you see?
Yeah, you have become
Yeah, you have become beautiful
And I can't be the stranger
That's been sleeping in your bed just Turn around and come to me

And I feel all the pain inside
And everything you've been denied you feel
It's all you feel
You've been hiding in the shadows
Have you forgotten how we used to dream
Well let me remind you the light doesn't blind you at all
It just helps you see, can you see?
Yeah, you have become
Yeah, you have become beautiful
Yeah, you have become
Yeah, you have become beautiful
Brush back your hair and you look around you
Feeling like the truth has found you here, you're here with me
Let love become the mirror
With no fear where you're from, now
You have become
Yeah, you have become beautiful
