Kalifornia

Humanwine

I open my chest to the landscape.
No telling what this will bring about
But I can bet you, it'll be calming.
Well it's cooling.

I open my ribcage to the wind.
This feeling is the closest thing.
It's cooling and soothing, my silt is settling.
My will is evolving.
It's growing and I'm warmer
With the opening of fire!

Morning sun is calling and opening my arms.
Growing within me are the open seeds of fire.

Coyote is howling out my desire.

Calling to the west open up with Bear.
Look into his arms, you will find me there!

Calling to the North open up with green.
Calling in the strength to open up the circle.
