Dragonfly

Alex Bevan

hello morning star
I like it where you are Youâ€™re a friendly sight a kindly light/Your gentle light a kindly sight
Not distant or too far
And Youâ€™re the chaser of the sun
You watch us wake and run Between these lines of day and night
You watch the good things come
The good things come

Hello morning sky
You pour the colour in my eyes
Filling in the framework of the sun
As up she rises
To, peak above the land and spread a warming hand
With red and molten honeyed golden pallet paint n plan Paint n plan

hello dragonfly now youâ€™re a hovering surprise Youâ€™re right between the morning star and this slow sunrise Caught in stopping time and like you my love i, i find Youâ€™re a lovely thought that waits a moment Then continues flying, continues flying hmmmm

And all my wishes go to you as morning flows in the thought of these three images its, its like the smile that goes between us Little little rhyme to the one so sweet and kind when this light finds joyful flight and gentle fine design, fine design Fine design

hello, hello, hello,
Mmmm
