

Avalanche

Drew Holcomb & the Neighbors

The sky is turning
Feels like the glass might break
Like something's changing
Tearing down the barricade
I been a fool with my heart
A fool with my reputation
Lost in the wilderness
You were a revelation
I remember the first time I saw your face
A memory, a photograph, time cannot erase
Oh what can I do
I tried to hold it back
I want to make it last
Oh I know it's true
I never stood a chance
Your love is like an avalanche
People change
We both learned that's ok
'Cause you and me baby
It looks like we found our way
If we hold on tight we'll keep it together
What we've got will only keep getting better
Oh what can I do
I tried to hold it back
I want to make it last
Oh I know it's true
I never stood a chance
Your love is like an avalanche
Oh what can I do
I tried to hold it back
I want to make it last
Oh I know it's true
I never stood a chance
Your love is like an avalanche
Oh what can I do
I tried to hold it back
I want to make it last
Oh I know it's true
I never stood a chance

Your love is like an avalanche
