The Colour Hurts

Curve

It was the beginning
The final curtain descends
The doorway to dating
Has revealed its potenceThe colour hurts, in this last breath of sins
Why do you grow inside me?
It smells of dew as if spirals to victory, it says
"Why do you grow inside me?"Leave me alone
I was doing okay before
But now you're here, hold my hand
Now you've won, I understandThe colour hurts, in this last breath of sins
Why do you grow inside me?
It smells of dew as if spirals to victory, it says
"Why do you grow inside me?"Leave me alone
Oh, leave me aloneIt's a younger world
For the complex is an eternityThe colour hurts, in this last breath of sins
Why do you grow inside me?
It smells of dew as if spirals to victory, it says
"Why do you grow inside me?"Send me some rebirth
Send me some rebirth
Send me some rebirth
Send me some rebirthIt's a destiny of sorts
It's a destiny of sorts
It's a destiny of sorts
It's a destiny of sortsThe smell of the earth
The smell of the earth
The smell of the earth
The smell of the earth
