Anam

Baba Zula

When will I see
An end to destruction and woe?
And how will I see
No division, in my life?There comes a time, to make amends
Never too late, to try again
To save our soulWhen will I see
An end to the famine and war?
And when will I say
There's no solution no more?There comes a time, to make amends
Never too late, to try again
To save our soulAll that I see
Is soul destroying, greed
When will I say
There's no solution to meet?There comes a time, to make amends
Never too late, to try again
To save our soul
