Love Is A Shield

Camouflage

Love is a shield to hide behind
Love is a field to grow inside
And when I sometimes close my eyes
My mind starts spinning roundLove is a baby in a mother's arms
Love is your breath which makes me warm
And when I sometimes close my eyes
My mind starts spinning roundThere is a feeling that flows through me
When you are near, you make it real
And we could live for this ideal
And all the pictures we run through
Seem to be perfect, seem to be trueBut nothing is quite forever
Especially staying togetherLove is a shield to hide behind
Love is a field to grow inside
And when I sometimes close my eyes
My mind starts spinning roundLove is a baby in a mother's arms
Love is your breath which makes me warm
And when I sometimes close my eyes
My mind starts spinning roundLove is a shield to hide behind
Love is a field to grow inside
And when I sometimes close my eyes
My mind starts spinning roundLove is a baby in a mother's arms
Love is your breath which makes me warm
And when I sometimes close my eyes
My mind starts spinning roundI don't care now what comes along
What counts is us no matter what will be
Just this naivety
The changing words we're taking in
Seem to be perfect, seem to winBut nothing is quite forever
Especially staying togetherLove is a shield to hide behind
Love is a field to grow inside
And when I sometimes close my eyes
My mind starts spinning roundLove is a baby in a mother's arms
Love is your breath which makes me warm
And when I sometimes close my eyes
My mind starts spinning round
