Torn

Skirtbox

Like a pendant on the neck of a queen
10,000 scars an embrace of the stone
As we dance on a steady canopy
Accuse me, fool me, take all my pain away, my friend
Singing my final song of honor
Betrayed but still I never came around to open my mind
I was torn by the storms in my head
Like a victim of fate
Born to regret
Still denied by the spirits of hell
A call to repent
Til the visions still stand in silence, like a shadow
Like a martyr that is nowhere to be seen
10,000 stars I have prayed for (the calm)
As we drift on this never ending sea
Clear me, keep me, take all my pain away, my friend
Singing my final song of glory
Betrayed but still I finally came around and opened my eyes

I was...
Torn by the storms in my head
Like a victim of fate
Born to regret
Still denied by the spirits of hell
A call to repent
Til the visions still stand in silence, like a shadow
Like a shadow
Torn by the thorns in my head
Like a victim of violence
A call to repent
Denied by the spirits of heaven
Take me up again to the music of dawn
I was torn by the storms in my head
Like a victim of fate
Born to regret
Still denied by the spirits of hell
A call to repent
Til the visions still stand,
Like a shadow
