Klaxons

The tomb crew bring sugar oil
We'll meet at the mirrored statue
Margaret, my girl, standing on air
That is my name, that is my nameLight the bridges with the lantern
You know something's going to happen
Light the bridges with the lantern
You know something's going to happenThe tomb crew bring sugar oil
We'll meet at the mirrored statue
Margaret, my girl, standing on air
That is my name, that is my nameLight the bridges with the lantern
You know something's going to happen
Light the bridges with the lantern
You know something's going to happenLight the bridges with the lantern
You know something's going to happen
Light the bridges with the lantern
You know something's going to happen[Incomprehensible]
[Incomprehensible]Tigers in boil
Forgotten works
Tigers in boil
Forgotten worksLight the bridges with the lantern
You know something's going to happen
Light the bridges with the lantern
You know something's going to happenLight the bridges with the lantern
You know something's going to happen
Light the bridges with the lantern
You know something's going to happen
