Slave

James Reyne

There's a light in the valley
There's a heart all alone
And the door is always open
Go away from your window
Pull the shades way down low
And in a whisper, words are spokenHigher and higher
Taking you there
You've got to fly
You've got to careWhen the feeling's gone
And you can't go on, slave
When things ain't right
You wanna stay all night, slaveLooking for someone
Who will always be strong
And who will not let you hide
You need your defender
For right or for wrong
You know the path is deep and wideHigher and higher
Taking you there
You've got to fly
You've got to careWhen the feeling's gone
And you can't go on, slave
When things ain't right
You wanna stay all night, slaveWhen the feelings gone
And you can't go on, slave
When things ain't right
Don't give up the fight, slave
