I Am an Animal

Twin Atlantic

Wake up everyone, you wanna see the state of the place that I'm in Cause last night leaves me lost for words, and the flashbacks are starting to get hypnotizing
Well you are an empty jar, you'll do anything, retrace your steps like I did
It takes you to a better place, before you decide to get out of your faceYou walked to a different beat
From the band
Are you that man?
Cause I am an animal, I am an animal
I sold my soul to the city, I sold my soul to the cityA night in Las Vegas, riding in a limousine, believe that I did
Lose my mind in a house of cards, to pinacoladas and cheap Frank Sinatra's
But back in the hotel bar, your tabs still outrunning, you spent all your money
My head up in the stars
but this cheap suit didn't really get you that farYou walked to a different beat
From the band
Understand I'm talking to you
You want what you can not have
Do you plan to be that man?
Cause I am an animal, I am an animal
I sold my soul to the city, I sold my soul to the city
Cause I am an animal, I am an animal
I sold my soul to the city, I sold my soul to the city

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/