Laughing Out Loud

The Wallflowers

Man, you oughta finish what you've started
You can't leave me here alive
Well, I know it started as a fist fight
But you've got me covered up in hives
I don't need an invitation
The best peach is at the top of that tree
But when all this indecision reigns
So aimlessness that helps me see straight
You got me walkin' up a tight rope
With vaseline from my head to my feet
You got me lookin' into blindfolds
But I know you've got your hands all over me
So when all these imitations fail
Just don't look back 'cause I won't be there
Laughing out loud
When I didn't ever know, just what it was all about
Laughing out loud
When I didn't ever know, just why you push me around
Well, I'm doing time inside a grapevine
Little things amuse little minds
Well, nothin's free except a little bit of bad advice
On how to live on only water, bread and rice
I don't need an invitation
The best peach is at the top of that tree
So when all this nighttime vision fails
I'll lose these chains and slip out of this jail
Laughing out loud
When I didn't ever know, just what it was all about
Laughing out loud
When I didn't ever know, just why you push me around
Laughing out loud
When I didn't ever know, just what it was all about
Laughing out loud
When I didn't ever know, just why you push me around
