

Sleep

Poets of the Fall

Hear your heart beat
Beat a frantic pace
And its not even 7 am
You're feeling the rush of anguish settling
You cannot help showing them in
So hurry up then
Or you'll fall behind and they will take control of you
You'll need to heal the hurt behind your eyes
Fickle words crowding your mind

So, Sleep sugar, let your dreams flood in Like waves of sweet fire, you're safe within Sleep Sweetie, let the floods come rushing in
And carry you over to a new morning

Try as you might, you try to give it up
Seems to be holding on fast
Its hand in your hand
A shadow over you
A beggar for soul in your face
Still it don't matter if you wont listen,
If you wont let it follow you
You just need to heal
Make good all your lies
Move on and don't look behind

So, Sleep sugar, let your dreams flood in
Like waves of sweet fire, you're safe within
Sleep Sweetie, let the floods come rushing in
And carry you over to a new morning

Day after day,
Fickle visions messing with your head
Fickle vicious sleeping in your bed
Messing with your head
Fickle visions, Fickle vicious

So, Sleep sugar, let your dreams flood in
Like waves of sweet fire, you're safe within

Sleep Sweetie, let the floods come rushing in
And carry you over to a new morning

So, Sleep sugar, let your dreams flood in
Like waves of sweet fire, you're safe within
Sleep Sweetie, let the floods come rushing in
And carry you over to a new morning
