

Seen and Gone

Kultiration

Remind me, yeah
of the universal vibe

Lord

Don't let me ever go astray I'm called upon to be here today unfolding the story, written for this play observing my part, playing from the heart while the sum remains the same Remind me of the unbroken self

Lord

Such a beautiful creation indeed Despite of all emotion I feel connecting with the truth of matter and energy and it's rising and setting qualities let me observe the nature in these... Seen and gone I stay strong as they rise and fall so let me greet them for what they truly are
seen and gone
awareness doesn't change along so let me greet them for what they truly are seen and gone all knowing, all pervasive yeah from you lord, how could I ever go astray from one sun and it's many sun rays from one ocean and her many waves from one love and it's many sides there is only one face but so many expressions amongst our shadows in our garden of mirrors we walk along the light of billions of stars as we travel the many life long lived journeys look into the essence of what you truly are this world we have come to know, will - rise and fall yes I see them empires will conquer but them - rise and fall even our concepts, will - rise and fall this body mind complex - rise and fall seen and gone stay strong as they rise and fall let me greet them for what they truly are seen and gone
awareness doesn't change along no
so let me greet them for what they truly are
seen and gone
