When the Candle Fades

Hypocrisy

The sky turns black
Where all parts of panic goes
Dreams are reality just the sameJust another crucifixion
One more cross nailed to the ground
The beginning of the end has just begunLight's getting dark
The real pain's yet to come
Call out the magic wordsForever chained to the flame
Another dream turned to ashes
Blessed by the darkWhen the candle fades
The pain goes in
When the sun turns black
You release your blood and fade awayBlood never lies
You'll take your life and dwell in emptiness
Running away from the painBodies with empty souls crying to be free
But this is just the beginning of the end
Yes, this is catching up with you
Tortured by the past once againThe time stops but nothing's forever
What comes after death, it never ends
You release your blood and fade awayBlood'd never lie
You'll take your life and dwell in emptiness
Running away from the painYou release your blood and fade away
Blood'd never lie
You'll take your life and dwell in emptiness
Running away from the painYou release your blood and fade away
Blood'd never lie
You release your blood, fade away, fade away
