We All Need Saving

Jon Mclaughlin

Come on, come on, you have got to move on
This is not the you I know
This isn't real, it's just all you can feel
And that's the way that feelings go
And whether or not it's right or wrong
You'll do what you will do
When the cloud in the sky starts to pour
And your life is just a storm you're braving
Well, don't tell yourself you can't lean on someone else
'Cause we all need saving sometimes
Say what you will but the time that we fill
While we're on the earth
Should not be alone, we were meant to be known
You make me what I'm worth
But I can't keep you from yourself
You'll do what you will do
When the cloud in the sky starts to pour
And your life is just a storm you're braving
Well, don't tell yourself you can't lean on someone else
'Cause we all need saving
I don't know why it has to be this way
And I don't know the cure
But please believe someone
Has felt this before
When the cloud in the sky starts to pour
And your life is just a storm you're braving
Well, don't tell yourself you can't lean on someone else
'Cause we all need saving
We all need saving sometimes, sometimes
