

Dusty Road

C.J. Chenier

I walk the line, look straight ahead
A second chance, one slip and it's gone
 Though the bird has flown
 The sands of time stand still
 Scars that never heal
 Wounds you always feel
Keep on walking that dusty road
 Blinded by the flame
Keep on walking that dusty road
 Never giving in
A single light, you hold your breath
Your heart beats fast, a skin that burns
 Maybe the tide has turned

 The goal you know is near
 And wish of a thousand nights
 Voices you always hear
So keep on walking that dusty road
 Keep on walking that dusty road
 Blinded by the flame
 Keep on walking that dusty road
 Never giving in
 Keep on walking that dusty road
 Blinded by the flame
 Keep on walking that dusty road
 Never giving in
