

El Diablo (2010 Remastered Version)

Arcadia

Enter newborn players and gather weight their innocence

Only the brightest shine but not forever

Many lights die, many tears rain

When those tears run dry on a mountain madness day You were just in time for a foolish deal for love I sold

Can't stand another howling day inside this empty skin

While the beacons burn, I'll say "Await return from so far away"

One life with the devil do I play for so long

El Diablo is to blame, ohOh El Diablo, El Diablo

Won't you sell me back my soul?

Oh El Diablo, El Diablo

Won't you sell me back my soul? Wedding is on the wind does she blow my way?

She can dance and she can sing, she will tear your heart away

While the promise burns, I'll stay and you will return from so far away

One life with the devil do I play for so long

El Diablo is to blame

One life with the devil do I play for so long

El Diablo is to blame

One life but the devil is in my way

Oh

Songwriters

Rhodes, Nick / Le Bon, Simon / Taylor, Roger Andrew Published by

Lyrics © Sony/ATV Music Publishing LLC

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnlyrics.com/>