

Danger Ahead

Electric Light Orchestra

Here she comes down the street and that look is in her eye
And the way she looks, if looks could kill they might
All the kids down in the street run away
When she goes by it's the end of the day
So believe what they say, there's danger in the air Look through a window and you'll see her standin' there
She's the latest of the greatest with the wind blowin' in her hair
The prima donna, she's back in town
And you'll see her for miles around
So believe what they say there's danger in the air Beware, there's danger ahead
The endless summer is dead
Look out, there's danger ahead Monday mornin', she's already up and gone
Ah, she knows what she wants and she knew it all along
With her entourage on either side
Just one look she can't be denied
So believe what they say there's danger in the air Beware, there's danger ahead
The endless summer is dead
Look out, there's danger ahead Beware, there's danger ahead
The endless summer is dead
Here is new threat likened She's got a reputation that's way ahead of her time
She's got adulation that's way ahead of her mind
Everybody runs around to please
When she looks in the mirror, she just has to freeze
So believe what they say, there's danger in the air Beware, there's danger ahead
The endless summer is dead
Look out, there's danger ahead Beware, there's danger ahead
The endless summer is dead
Look out, there's danger ahead

Songwriters

Lynne, Jeff Published by

Lyrics © Sony/ATV Music Publishing LLC

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>