

House of Love

Robert Plant

The leaving was so hard
The breaking of two hearts
Together we stand or divided I fall
We're walking in firelight
We're losing it this time
How can we look back now to see the damage done? When I think about it now
It's a house of love burning down
When I think about it now
It's a house of love burning down I'm tearing the walls down
I'm spinning the world 'round
And yesterday's dreams lie in pieces on the ground
The heart is a heavy load
Familiar, this lonely road
And I am no stranger to this solitary song When I think about it now
It's a house of love burning down
When I think about it now
It's a house of love burning down Blue days and black nights
Long gone the love light
Gloomy the thief that stole the fire behind your eyes
'Cause leaving was so hard
The breaking of two hearts
Together we stood or divided I fall When I think about it now
It's a house of love burning down
When I think about it now
It's a house of love burning down

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>