

Mucus Shifters

The Apex Theory

Mucus shifters throat menders, suck up social members
Have you realized the patience given not given back?
Working, ready made fix it quick, years of little gain
Push me too far blind bats it will never end
No money, life is plenty funny
For all you hard working people, I'll sing it again
No money, life is plenty funny
For all you hard working people, the day never ends
Multivitamins tea bags vitamin see in me
Anxious peons rule bylaw, laced with e, lazeery
Hold on my foot in your mouth, taste the asphalt
Slobbery wet smokers breathe for you
And now I'm breathing you
No money, life is plenty funny
For all you hard working people, I'll sing it again
No money, life is plenty funny
For all you hard working people, the day never ends
No money, life is plenty funny
For all you hard working people, I'll sing it again
No money, life is plenty funny
For all you hard working people, the day never ends
I want to feel like the man who never lost his soul
Took advice 'cause I thought I could've had it all
Didn't know that a better life was possible
Impossible
I can feel like the kid who never lost his soul
Take advice and believe that it's attainable
You could say that a better life is possible
Impossible
No money, life is plenty funny
For all you hard working people, I'll sing it again
No money, life is plenty funny
For all you hard working people, the day never ends
No money, life is plenty funny
For all you hard working people, I'll sing it again
No money, life is plenty funny
For all you hard working people, the day never ends
For all you hard working people, the day never ends
For all you hard working people, the day never ends
For all you hard working people, the day never ends

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>