Out Of Nowhere

Shadow Gallery

Yesterday is over
Stripped of my clearance, fired
I don't know what to doHaunted by empty faces
Victims of warring madness
If they only knewWhen their world's a bloody mess
Some corporate bottom line
I tried to ask and they treat me like a threat
And they slammed the door behindYesterday I walked away into a cold, cold city
So afraid our world today is just a house of lies
Just believe in what you feel
They used to say, they used to say
Then out of nowhere I melt into my busy dayReaching out in my world Becomes a matter of Connections to the netI've locked myself in real good
Investigative research
Looking for what is realWelcome the brave new world
No light inside my soul
The more I learn the deeper in I'm drawn
The deeper in I fallYesterday I walked away into a cold, cold city
Ain't it strange how wars get raged to sounds of smashing dreams
Just believe in what you feel
They used to say, they used to say
Then out of nowhere, one world, no chanceIs this the new human race?
A faceless contact with life
Imaginary places stealing all of my timeIs this a test of my faith?
What's to become of my life
I used to see it so clear
But now I've lived to see it pass away before my eyes

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/