

Georgia (Jake Hams Remix)

Vance Joy

She is something to behold
Elegant and bold
She is electricity
Running to my soul, oh And I could easily lose my mind
The way you kiss me will work each time
Calling me to come back to bed
Singing Georgia on my mind And I, and I Lips generous and warm
You build me up like steps
Eyes innocent and wild
Remind me what it's like, oh And I could easily lose my mind
The way you kiss me will work each time
Pulling me back into the flames
And I'm burning up again, I'm burning up And I, I never understood what was at stake
I never thought your love was worth it's wait
Well now you've come and gone
I finally worked it out, I worked it out I never should have told you
I never should have let you see inside
Don't want it troubling in your mind
Won't you let it be I never should have told you
I never should have let you see inside
Don't want it troubling in your mind
Won't you let it be I never should have told you
I never should have let you see inside
Don't want it troubling in your mind
Won't you let it be I never should have told you
I never should have let you see inside
Don't want it troubling in your mind
Won't you let it be And I could easily lose my mind
The way you kiss me will work each time
Pulling me back into the flames
And I'm burning up again, I'm burning up And I, I never understood what was at stake
I never thought your love was worth its wait
Well now you've come and gone
I finally worked it out, I worked it out, oh, ooh, oh
