I Can't Control Myself

The Horrors

Across the pathless sands Through jungle, blind I run No guide taken in hand And no idea where to turnNo sanctuary found I tear myself in two I pray for scarlet fields to save me Whole and white and pureI can't control myself Lend one of your hands 'cause I I can't control myselfI dream of lost desires Fingers run through fur I drive myself insane The rain cascades onto the dirtAnd in the throes of love Where the shadows burst in flames I cast myself abandoned With a cry I call your nameI can't control myself I try and I try but I I can't control myselfI can't control myself Lend one of your hands 'cause I I can't control myself Or hold myself in though I tryI can't control myself Deliver me from the fire I can't control myself
