

Lost and Alone (Acoustic)

From Ashes to New

Oh how the skies have fallen down upon me?
I'm trapped inside this wake of nothing.
What once was beautiful is now a disease.
I can't believe this once was something.
Burning down over me!
Can't make it through the debris!
I can't make it, no!
I try my hardest to see!
Can't find my way on these streets!
I can't make it home!
Lost and alone in this world with no hope!
Trying not to let go when there's nothing, nothing to hold! Everyday it seems we're evolving,
Into a world that's not there for you.
And everything we were is now dissolving,
Into this apathetic life that we choose.
Burning down over me!
Can't make it through the debris!
I can't make it, no!
I try my hardest to see!
Can't find my way on the streets!
I can't make it home! Lost and alone in this world with no hope!
Trying not to let go when there's nothing to hold!
Nowhere to go, nothing to hold!
Everything around me starts to crumble!
Nowhere to go, nothing to hold!
Someone save me!
Save me!
This nothing is drowning me again!
Nothing can save me!
It's drowning me again!
I'm pleading for an end,
But this nightmare just began! Lost and alone in this world with no hope!
Trying not to let go when there's nothing, nothing!
Lost and alone in this world with no hope!
Trying not to let go when there's nothing to hold!
Lost and alone in this world with no hope!
Trying not to let go when there's nothing, nothing! Save me!
This nothing is drowning me again!
Nothing can save me!

It's drowning me!
