

Existence

Uncreation

All my life I've searched for answers
All my life I've searched for answers
    Some suffer, some thrive
        Some live, some die
        Some love, some hate
    Some find nothing in common
        Some relate, some sin
    Some are innocent, some are good
        Some are bad and some sad
        All I want is to understand
All my life I've searched for answers
    Why can't I know the reasons we live
        Who is this God, we all worship
            Will we ever know?
        Some think, some drink
    Some sink into a hole they can't let go
        Others bleed for their sins
    Some draw blood for them ends
        Some steel, some deal
Some peel off their skin and try to start again
    The rest fiend, the rest still dream
        My heart pumps just to feel that cream
    I'm elevated cross faded with a bag of tricks

I'm in the mix since 96'
Shoot the facts and relax, we melt on wax
    On top of the world is where we at
        When I trip I slip, I kinda got grip
    To the left and to the right shit this tight
    'Cause I'm an addict addicted to music
        It's a habit you know I choose it
    All my life I've searched for answers
    Why can't I know the reasons we live
        Who is this God, we all worship
            Will we ever know?
    Scrape the pieces off the wall of my hate
        Clean the slate but its far to late
    I stitch my own skin you can't penetrate
        Don't look back its all fate

All my life I've searched for answers
Why can't I know the reasons we live
    Who is this God, we all worship
    Will we ever know?
All my life I've searched for answers
Why can't I know the reasons we live
    Who is this God, we all worship
    Will we ever know?

Lyrics provided by
<https://damnlyrics.com/>